What does Fruve Quality Promise mean?

Excellence in Quality

“Quality does not just happen. It takes diligence, hard-work, patience, team work. And above all, respect.”

Contract Farmers

Farmers are the backbone of our society; we love and respect them for their hard work. But when problems do arise at the farm or orchard, they may not always have access to right information.

Working hand in hand with farmers, we provide seedlings and initial capital, and follow through from planting to harvest. Our agronomists provide sound advice at every turn, and supervise the harvest.

Pesticide Residue and Heavy Metals

Farming is a balancing act. Sun hours, cloud cover, humidity, diseases, etc. all determine the horticulture strategy, and how the fertilizers and pesticides are used.

Prior to harvest, crop samples are tested at independent laboratories for Maximum Residue Limits (MRL) of EU, USA, Japan and S. Korea. Harvest takes place only after crops are found clean of pesticide residues and heavy metals.

Production Standards (High Care)

A key aspect of our Fruve Quality Promise is minimizing risks from micro-organisms and cross contamination during production and storage. We are a High Risk / Low Risk / High Care facility, meaning production equipment and factory layout are designed against these risks. We are also BRC certified (AA grade).

Food Safety Assurance System

The physical infrastructure and machinery are only as good as the people using them, and the systems in place.

Our Quality team constantly identifies, evaluates, and controls risks. Also planning and implementing improvements in our standards and systems for food safety.

On-Site Laboratory

Microbiological, Physical and Organoleptic analyses are performed at our factory laboratory. For pathogenic microorganisms, we work with accredited 3rd part laboratories.
